The Critical Language Scholarship (CLS) program is an intensive summer language and cultural immersion program for American undergraduate and graduate students enrolled at U.S. colleges and universities. A program of the U.S. Department of State's Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs, CLS is part of a U.S. government initiative to expand the number of Americans studying and mastering critical foreign languages. Students of diverse disciplines and majors are encouraged to apply. Participants are expected to continue their language study and apply their critical language skills in their future professional careers.

Benefits of the CLS Program:

• Full scholarship covers all travel, tuition, housing, and a living stipend for the summer.
• Undergraduate academic credit for a year’s worth of language classes.
• Non-competitive eligibility for U.S. government jobs for up to three years after program completion.
• Scholars build cross-cultural communication, critical thinking, and problem solving skills in an immersive environment abroad.
